Music@Menlo's New Home: The Spieker Center for the Arts

Performance Venues

The Spieker Center for the Arts

The Spieker Center is the new home of Music@Menlo, situated at the heart of the Menlo School campus. The hall has 384 seats, all with clear sightlines and close acoustic proximity to the stage. It also features meticulous acoustic design to meet the most rigorous industry standards, bright and spacious lobby space, and state-of-the-art recording and technical facilities. All festival concert programs will be broadcast live from the Spieker Center, with a reduced-capacity, distanced audience if state and county health guidelines allow.

Menlo School Outdoor Performances

Public health guidelines permitting, each mainstage concert this summer will also be performed at 6:00 p.m. on the lawn of the Menlo School campus. As with indoor events, audience capacity and social distancing will be determined based on guidelines in place at the time of the festival. Audience members will be required to wear masks at all times. The performers will be amplified as appropriate and each concert will be performed without an intermission to minimize contact between audience members.

Parking

Free parking is available on the Menlo School campus.
